Are you having trouble connecting with the right advice? Does your insurance broker understand your business?

Working in nanotechnology brings some very specific risk exposures, and it's critical that your enterprise is underpinned with specialist insurance and sound advice.

La Playa Science & Technology Insurance with Intelligence

The most exciting phrase to hear in science, the one that heralds new discoveries, is not “Eureka!”, but “That’s funny ...”

Isaac Azimov

La Playa is an award-winning independent broker supporting science and technology companies with practical, jargon-free advice on specialist insurance and risk management.

Backed by leading global technology insurers, and working with best-of-breed underwriters, we will examine your business plan and undertake an appraisal of all insurable risk so that we can design a tailored insurance portfolio with comprehensive protection at sensible prices. Flexible and efficient, we combine personal service with expert advice – the perfect partner to guide you through the complex and ever-changing risks your enterprise will face.

COVERS INCLUDE:

- Asset Protection (including data, R&D property and stock in controlled environments)
